VIRGINIA (August 9, 2021) -- UNISWAG LLC is pleased to announce that The Emblem Source will be the presenting sponsor of this year's UNISWAG Uniform of the Week Award. Each week during the NCAA College Football Season, UNISWAG will release a Top 10 Countdown of the best uniforms worn during Game Day. The Emblem Source will provide the Number One team each week with a unique patch as the winner of the award that week.

ABOUT THE EMBLEM SOURCE:

As a family company operating out of Addison, Texas, The Emblem Source takes great care to be the premiere patch manufacturer and supplier to hundreds of colleges and universities each year. The patch is an on-field staple across college athletics as a symbol and sign of the pride each school displays during competition. It is a real, tangible, collectible piece of memorabilia that stands out as a visible addition to the uniform. Whether it is for an individual school, an athletic conference, or an NCAA Championship, we are happy to be the Source for any and all patch needs that come our way.
